1 – The TRANSFEROR(s) state that the above referred work is original and exclusively made by him/ her; it has not been submitted for publication to any other communication vehicle, and all specific authorizations have been granted to cite sources. The TRANSFEROR is to be held responsible before the TRANSFEREE for any violations or infractions to third party rights that may result or be characterized by the content of the present work, be them copyrights or any other rights, exempting the TRANSFEREE from any responsibility or participation in the acts or their consequences and effects. Thus, as principal author (s) and holder (s) of the overall copyrights of the work, we herein assign and transfer to the TRANSFEREE permanently, exclusively and for free the overall copyrights of the authors over it, including the images it contains.

2 - By the present act, it is herein transferred to the TRANSFEREE the whole copyright of the incident author about the paper “ _____ ”, for reproduction of editorial and/or commercial nature, for printed, electronic, electromagnetic, digital and/or multimedia publication for modification, amendment, translation for reproduction, unlimited distribution of number of copies and/or geographic area in Brazil and/or abroad, in any language. Thus, the present transfer comprises all forms of use, without requiring previous authorization, and the work may be used as whole or in part.

3 – The TRANSFEROR (s) state that they are the only responsible parties for the text and/or image reproduction, as well as for the accuracy and trustfulness of credits and copyrights.

4 – The TRANSFEROR (s) do not waive the citation of their personal credit in the publication of the work whose rights are here being assigned.

5 – The Brazilian Society of Dermatology, however, should assign to TRANSFEROR (s) the right to publish the work in any printed and/or electronic collection, without charging anything, provided that it had been published on the journal owned by the TRANSFEREE entitled “ANAIS BRASILEIROS DE DERMATOLOGIA” (Brazilian Annals of Dermatology), that it has requested the previous consent of the editors of the journal and that the proper citation of the journal is made in the new publication.

6 – The present transfer shall be in force as of the signature of this term. However, if the paper is not accepted by the Review Board of the journal of the TRANSFEREE entitled “ANAIS BRASILEIROS DE DERMATOLOGIA” and if the study is not published in the journal within 5 (five) years from the signature of this term, the present transfer shall lose its effect and the full rights herein assigned will be automatically restored to the TRANSFEROR (s).
