

INSTRUCTIONS TO AUTHORS

Uploaded November 2016

Journal The European Journal of Psychology Applied to Legal Context is the publication entity for scientific expression of the Official College of Psychologists of Madrid (www.eviser.com/eviser/jrnl/ejpalc).

The Journal The European Journal of Psychology Applied to Legal Context is an open-access journal with 2 regular issues. All articles are immediately and permanently accessible to facilitate their reading and download.

All original contributions will be evaluated anonymously (double blind) by external expert reviewers designated by the Editor.

The authors of the articles submitted to the journal do not make economic contributions neither for sending articles to the journal or for their publication, in which case the authors cede the article's copyright (transfer of copyright in these rules) but reserve their personal rights <https://www.elsevier.com/about/company-reported/policies/copyright>.

The use by readers is regulated by the Creative Commons license: Attribution-Noncommercial-No Derivative Works (CC-BY-NC-ND). This license allows the reader to read, print, download and translate the article for exclusively personal use and/or share it with a third party, provided credit is given to the author, the version of the article is not modified and none of the uses of that article are for commercial (profit) motives.

In the event that the author, due to the policies of the institution to which they belong, requires a CC-BY license after the article has been accepted, they must contact Elsevier by e-mail: ejpalc@elsevier.com

Paper submission

Manuscripts should be submitted electronically to the Editors to the e-mail address of the journal (www.elsevier.es/ejpal). Postal address should be used exceptionally (The European Journal of Psychology Applied to Legal Context, Facultad de Psicología, Universidad de Santiago de Compostela, E-15782 Santiago, Spain). Submission of a paper to this journal implies that it represents original work not previously published, that it is not being considered elsewhere for publication and that it will not be submitted to other journal while it is under evaluation by The European Journal of Psychology Applied to Legal Context. The opinions and statements published are the responsibility of the authors, and such opinions and statements do not necessarily represent the policies of the Sociedad Española de Psicología Jurídica or the views of the Editors.

Review

The manuscripts will be reviewed by two blind referees. The reviews are anonymous for authors and reviewers. Author identities will be removed before sending out a manuscript to the reviewers.

Copyright

Authors submitting a manuscript do so with the understanding that if it is accepted for publication the copyright of the manuscript, including the reproduction of the paper in all forms and media, shall be transferred to the publisher.

Style

Manuscripts must adhere to the instructions on references, tables, figures, abstract, format, narrative style, etc. as described in the Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association (6th edition, 2009). Manuscripts that do not fit to the style set forth in this manual will not be considered for publication. Examples of the most frequent references in APA style (for additional contingencies see the 6th edition of the Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association):

Journal article

With doi

Hiscock, M., & Hiscock, C. K. (1989) Refining the forced-choice method for the detection of malingering. Journal of Clinical and Experimental Neuropsychology, 11, 967-974. doi:xx.xxxxxxxx

Without doi

Arvai, J., Campbell, V., Baird, A., & Rivers, L. (2004). Teaching students to make better decisions about the environment: Lessons from the decisions sciences. Journal of Environmental Education, 36, 33-44.

Advance on-line publication

Novo, M., & Seijo, M. D. (2010). Judicial judgement-making and legal criteria of testimonial credibility. The European Journal of Psychology Applied to

Legal Context. Advance on line publication. Retrieved from http://www.usc.es/sepjif/images/documentos/volumen\_2/novoandseijo.pdf

Book

Farley, M. (2000). Prostitution: Factsheet on human rights violations. San Francisco, CA: Prostitution Research and Education.

Chapter

Jacoby, L. (1982). Knowing and remembering: Some parallels in the behavior of Korsakoff patients and normals. In L. Cermak (Ed.), Human memory and amnesia (pp. 97-112). Hillsdale, NJ: LEA.

Non-English publication (give the original title followed, between brackets, the English translation) Guillaume, P. (1979). La psychologie de la forme [The psychology of the form]. Paris: Flammarion. Fariña, F., Arce, R., & Novo, M. (2002). Heurístico de anclaje en las decisiones judiciales [Anchoring in judicial decision-making]. Psicothema, 14, 39.

Data references

This journal encourages you to cite underlying or relevant datasets in your manuscript by citing them in your text and including a data reference in your Reference List. Data references should include the following elements: author name(s), dataset title, data repository, version (where available), year, and global persistent identifier

Oguro, M., Imahiro, S., Saito, S., Nakashizuka, T. (2015). Mortality data for Japanese oak wilt disease and surrounding forest compositions. Mendeley Data, v1. <http://dx.doi.org/10.17632/xwj98nb39r.1>.

Check list of requirements (for further information see http://www.apa.org/journals/authors/manuscript\_check.html).

Article title: It should be simply and concise expressing the topic, variables or issues under research. The recommended length is not more than 12 words.

Running head: Abbreviate the article title for the top of the pages of the manuscript. The maximum length is of 50 characters including letters, punctuations and spaces.

Abstract: The abstract is the access window of readers to the paper. Thus, prepare it carefully. It should be clear and easy to read with enough detail to help the reader understand what the article is about. The key elements for an experimental/research articles are: study purpose, brief description of the participants, methodology, study location (if relevant as for example if the legal context mediates the results), results, conclusions or implications. The abstract should be 150-250 words. Keywords: Provide 4 or 5 keywords. These should express the precise content of the manuscript.

Title page: It includes the authors byline, institutional affiliations, article title, running head and author note (complete department affiliation, acknowledgements and correspondence author with mailing address and e-mail).

Full paper text: It includes, in a separate page, article title, abstract and keywords. Then, the full text. Text should be presented double spaced with numbered pages and anonymised.

References: Follow the style described at 6th edition of Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association.

Tables and figures: These will be placed at the end of the paper or attached separately. Introduce a suggestion of entrance for each table and figure into the text.

Ethical Standards. The Journal subscribes to the ethical standards of the American Psychological Association, and the legal framework of the country where the research was developed.

Once the article has been accepted, the corresponding author will receive a link to the online version for signature for the transfer of copyright to [Official College of Psychologists of Madrid], with the power to transfer the rights to third parties, as well as the signing of the Creative Commons license: Recognition – Noncommercial – No derivative works (CC-BY-NC-ND: <http://creativecommons.org/licenses/by-nc-nd/4.0/>), which regulates the use by readers.

Authors who have received funding from the US National Institutes of Health or who belong to the Howard Hughes Medical Institute must agree to signing an exclusive license for the publication and distribution of their article, which will made be available online and subject to the conditions of use signed for in the Creative Commons license. If this is the case for you, you must contact the following email address; revista\_copm@cop.es